ACADEMIC ASSEMBLY

Nearly four hundred UVic students will be honored at the annual Academic Assembly for the granting of scholarships, awards and Diplomas in Public Administration today at 4 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Recognition will go to 278 undergraduate and 79 graduate students who have received prizes, scholarships and fellowships totalling $47,655 and $124,000 respectively.

Another 27 first year students who have received a total of $9,650 in entrance awards will be honored.

Twenty-five civil servants from throughout the province will receive the Diploma in Public Administration. The Diploma is granted to those who have completed a three-year Executive Development Training Program for Civil Servants. Now in its 18th year, the program has been administered by UVic since 1964.

President Hugh Farquhar will preside at the Assembly. Dr. Farquhar will introduce the recipients and donors of numerous scholarships and other awards as well as presenting the Diplomas in Public Administration.

Dr. Robert T.D. Wallace, Chancellor of the University, will address the Assembly.

About 500 persons are expected to attend the presentations.

MLA'S ON CAMPUS

Members of the Legislative assembly, including the Minister of Education the Hon. Eileen Dailly, were given a guided tour of the campus Wednesday morning, October 17.

The visitors were shown the Commons Block, the residence complex, the Elliott Building and SUB.

President Hugh Farquhar spoke to the group in the Commons lounge, outlining the development of the university since its founding 10 years ago.

MLA's responded with questions regarding the involvement of the university in the community and the university as a resource for the solving of social problems.

While refreshments were served by the AMS, members of the tour spent an hour chatting with students in the SUB.

"SUNDAYAFTERNOONS"

The second of UVic's "sundayafternoons"—faculty chamber music concerts—will be held Sunday, October 28 at 4 p.m. in the MacLaurin auditorium. The concert will present works by Canadian composers.

The fourth season of the "sundayafternoons" began September 23, with the first program featuring the debut of the "Scratch Orchestra" under conductor George Corwin.

This year's series of concerts will present Music of Our Time; all pieces will be by 20th century composers.

The first concert featured music of Europe, the third will present music of the Americas and the fourth an international program, highlighted by some oriental pieces. The final concert will present the full performance of Igor Stravinsky's L'histoire du Soldat.

All concerts will be held in the MacLaurin auditorium. Admission is one dollar.

EVENING CREDIT UP

Registration in evening credit programs is up 126 per cent over last year with approximately half of all students registered at the university taking at least one evening credit course.

According to Dr. L.E. Devlin (Continuing Education) evening credit enrolment more than doubled from 877 in 1972-73 to 1,980 in the current academic year.

This program has been expanded, he said, so that it now offers a total of 60 courses, "in an attempt to serve adult students studying on a part-time evening basis."

It is the fourth consecutive year of increased enrolment in programs sponsored by the division for adults.

Registration in non-degree courses has increased 19 per cent over last year for a total of 1,506, and enrolment in the university's off-campus credit program at Duncan, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Courtenay is 247, an increase of 50 per cent.

LEARNED LADIES

To mark the tricentennial anniversary of the death of Molière, the Theatre Department is presenting one of the French playwright's most frequently produced comedies.

Les Femmes Savantes (The Learned Ladies) will be directed by Dr. Harvey Miller with set design by Bill West. Costumes are designed by Irene Pieper and lighting is by Giles Hogya.

The play, a witty look at the battle of the sexes, will be presented at the Phoenix Theatre October 25 to November 3 (including Sunday) at 8 p.m.

Tickets, at $2 ($1 for students and old age pensioners) may be obtained from the Phoenix Theatre or by calling 477-4821.

PSYCHOLOGY WINNERS

Four UVic students have been selected as tops in the province in psychological research.

The students were chosen as winners of an annual, province-wide competition sponsored by the British Columbia Psychological Association (BCPA).

BCPA president Dr. Andrew Kerr, chief psychologist at the Victoria Mental Health Centre, presented the students with their $25 awards after they had presented the results of their research to a gathering of psychologists and community representatives at the Faculty Club October 12.

Winning students and their papers were:

Dave Madden (Psychology), "An Analysis of Hesitation Phenomena in Aphasia and Normal Speech"; Paul Viel (Education), "What's an Effective Reinforcer?... Ask the Children!"; Penni Gallant (Psychology), "Delayed Auditory Feedback: Some Implications for Aphasia"; Chris Shirley (Education) "A Study Identifying Variables Perceived to Influence Suicidal Patient's Choices to Not Show for Follow-up Counselling Appointments."

LIBRARY GIFT

The McPherson Library has received a bequest of $33,036 from the estate of Adelia F. Lowe, who died in Victoria in November 1971 at the age of 83.

The University was named residual legatee in the will of Mrs. Lowe who left the major portion of her estate to the library and $1,500 each to the public libraries in Victoria and Calgary.

University librarian D.W. Halliwell said the funds will be used for additions to various scholarly collections.

President Hugh Farquhar described such gifts as having "a lasting value for the enlightenment of mankind, and society must always be indebted to those who leave their resources for such purposes."

GETTING THE LEAD OUT

Physics Department "volunteers" Dallas Smith, left, (B.Sc. UVic 1972) and Martin Nicol, centre, (B.Sc. UVic 1973) get the lead out of the cosmic ray building on the roof of the Elliott Building and onto a truck bound for TRIUMF. (The Tri-Universities Meson Facility is a cyclotron being built by four western Canadian universities on the UBC campus.)

Fifteen tons of free lead became available from the Physics Department cosmic ray experiment which was shut down along with other stations in the international grid last year.

The lead will be used to surround the copper target in the meson area of TRIUMF where a high radiation level similar to that in a reactor is expected.

According to Dr. Michael Pearce (Physics) serious consideration was given to wearing lead underwear in the meson area, but a time and motion study together with a careful computer cost analysis suggested that the best solution was to surround the target itself with many tons of lead.

Faculty News

DEPARTMENT HEADS

Four new department heads were named last week. Two of the changes resulted from the split of the Department of Anthropology and Sociology into two separate departments, each with its own administrative structure.

Donald H. Mitchell has been made acting head of the new Department of Anthropology, and Donald W. Ball takes over the Department of Sociology.

Alexander D. Kirk, Professor of Chemistry has been appointed acting chairman of that department until December 31, and Jerrold L. Mordaunt was named acting chairman of the Department of Hispanic and Italian Studies.

CHILDCARE

Dr. W.H. Gaddes presented a colloquium on "Neuropsychological Correlates of Behavior" at the Memorial University of Newfoundland on September 28. On the two following days he was an invited speaker at a Workshop on Learning Disorders sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, Faculty of Medicine, at Memorial University.

EDUCATION

Dr. Christopher Hodgkinson of the Faculty of Education presented an address to the meeting of the Western Canada Administrators which was held in Banff on October 11-13. The paper was entitled "Values in the Preparation of Educational Administrators".

Dr. K. George Pedersen, Dean of Education, presented a paper entitled "The Future of Education" to the 1973 Canadian Education Association Convention held at the Bayshore Inn, Vancouver, September 26-28.

ENGLISH

A monograph entitled Modern Culture and the Rebirth of Theology, by Dr. D.L. Jeffrey, has recently been published by SUNY Press.

Dorothy Livesay's first book of prose fiction, A Winnipeg Childhood, was published in September by Peguis Publishers, a new firm in Winnipeg.

A fourth book of poetry by Gary Geddes, Letter of the Master Horse, has just been released by Oberon Press in Ottawa. An earlier version of this narrative poem was awarded the E.J. Pratt medal and prize in 1970 by the University of Toronto; it has also been broadcast on CBC radio's Anthology.

HISTORY

Last week Dr. R.H. Roy gave a lecture at United States War College at Carlisle, Pennsylvania on the topic "Conscription and volunteerism—the Canadian experience".

GEOGRAPHY

Some recent publications in the department include: "Modifying the Weather" W.R.D. Sewell et. al. The proceedings of a 'Symposium on Human Interactions with the Atmosphere' held in Boulder, Colorado, October 1972. This is Volume 9 of the Western Geographical Series and was supported by a grant from the National Centre for Atmospheric Research in Boulder. Containing 350 pages it is the largest volume yet published in the series.

"Oil Pollution as an International Problem". W.M. Ross. This forms Vol. 6 in the Western Geographical Series which has been published in hard edition by the University of Washington Press.

Dr. J.D. Porteous has published an article entitled "The Company State: A Chilean Case Study", in the Canadian Geographer, Summer 1973, in which he deals with the geopolitical implications of U.S. imperialism in Chile.

Dr. Sewell is spending a year of Study leave at Edinburgh University, teaching and completing research on British Water Management.

Dr. Colin Campbell has left the Department to take up a position as Director of Research for the Parks Branch, British Columbia.

Miss Lorna Barr has been appointed visiting lecturer, teaching courses on resources management, cultural geography and Europe.

MATHEMATICS

The book "Elementary Computer Applications in Science, Engineering, and Business" by Drs. I. Barrodale, F.D.K. Roberts, and B. Ehle, in use as a text in Mathematics 171, has now been published in a German translation by John Wiley and Sons GmbH, Frankfurt.

Drs. Roberts and Dr. D. Olesky presented papers at the Conference on Numerical Mathematics held at the University of Manitoba, October 3-6. Dr. Roberts spoke on "Best approximation by rational functions", which was written jointly by himself and Dr. I. Barrodale. Dr. Olesky spoke on "Inclusion regions for partitioned matrices". Eric Gelling, a recent M.Sc. graduate of the Department, presented a paper from his thesis at the conference. Entitled "On 1-factorizations of the complete graph and the relationship to round robin schedules", the paper was co-authored by Dr. R. Odeh, Mr. Gelling's thesis supervisor.
